

Three Feathers Indigenous Case Management & Palliative Education Facilitation

in collaboration with

Cindy Lynn Martin

Palliative Care Education, Community Program Development and Case Management

Supporting Communities Through Education, Guidance and Culturally Informed Care

Objectives

Support First Nations communities in strengthening culturally grounded case management, palliative care education, and community-based palliative care program development.

Case Management Services

Half-day Indigenous case management training focused on best practices, client assessment, referral processes, care planning, coordination, evaluation, transitions, and indicators of success.

Palliative Care Education Facilitation

Culturally grounded palliative care education for First Nations communities, frontline workers, and volunteers. This training uses a wholistic approach to support serious illness, end-of-life care, grief, bereavement, caregiver wellness, and community-based care planning.

Also available: Palliative Care Program Development support for communities building or strengthening their local palliative care program.
